

The composite, which shows a mustachioed man in a baseball cap and bears little resemblance to Goudeau, emerged during testimony from police officers. It was never distributed during the investigation.

The Arizona Republic, August 8, 2007

The first composite only appeared in the media during the Lorena and Alejandra Lara sexual assault trial in 2007, and only once that I'm aware of.