

During his investigation into Terry Wayne Smith, Phoenix police officer Rusty Stuart mapped out the locations of the crimes attributed to the Baseline Killer along with locations where police reports documented confrontations with Smith. This map is a recreation of the map contained in Stuart's report. The red markers represent a homicide, sexual assault or robbery attributed to the Baseline Killer. The green markers represent known addresses for Terry Wayne Smith or locations where he was interrogated by police for allegedly exhibiting abnormal criminal behavior. The yellow marker represents the home of Mark Goudeau.
